

Daniel Tooby

Technological Designer

ABOUT ME

Daniel Tooby is a Graduate from the University for the Creative Arts Farnham, with a Games Technology BSc degree. Daniel has a passion for video games, loving to play and develop them. He loves developing ideas and designing narratives, being able to both design and program a project. Outside of video games, Daniel has a passion for, animation, music, literature and musicals, all of which help him develop his own style of work and broaden his horizons. He is an eager and sociable person, being able to easily start a conversation and get things sorted. He is proficient in Unity and C#.
